

#MakingDumfries is a series of public events
for Scottish Festival of Architecture

Event number #1 is called Square Go

Two days of drawing, thinking and chat about ideas for a future Dumfries, taking place in Fountain Square (outside The Stove). The Glasgow Institute of Architects 'Eolas' pavilion will be set up on the square for Square Go and we'll use this as well as The Stove itself as an HQ for the project.

The idea is to run discussion groups on different topics (see below) in corners of the Square and to draw, write, spray ideas directly onto the paving – hopefully ending up with a giant-scale vision for a future Dumfries by the end of the two days.

When it is:

Tuesday 29th and Wednesday 30th March.

Square Go will be running from 10am- 4pm both days. (10-noon on the first day will be setting up and laying out the base drawing on the Square). Please see second attachment for detailed timings.
